

DEATH OF MRS. ROBERT GREENE.

Mrs. Annie White Greene, wife of Mr. Robert M. Greene, died at her home in Abbeville, Saturday evening after a short illness. The funeral exercises were held Monday morning at 11 o'clock at the Presbyterian church conducted by Rev. H. Waddell Pratt, attended by a large number of relatives and friends, and interment was at Long Cane cemetery.

Mrs. Greene is survived by her husband, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charley White, one sister, Miss Lucy White, and one brother Mr. Jno. White, all of Abbeville.

The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

Mrs. Greene was a native of Abbeville, reared in our midst and was highly esteemed by all. Her death was peculiarly sad as she had been married less than a year, and had every promise of a life of happiness, anchored in the affection of her husband. But she has passed from the "vale of tears" leaving the young husband and her father's family in loneliness. Her Christian character and her sunny life remain as an heritage to her bereaved husband and her family.

Oil the Streets.

Some weeks ago Mrs. Douthart stated in the Press and Banner some facts about oiling the streets that she had observed during a short residence in a northern town. If the information is correct and doubtless it is, the City of Abbeville could not do better than try the experiment. If the cost and trouble of daily watering the streets can be eliminated and one oiling will last as long as Mrs. Douthart thinks, oiling will save money in the end. That immediate expenditure would be considerable, there is no doubt, but effectiveness is the thing to be desired.

Oiling the streets does away with dust entirely, while watering, refreshing as it is at the time, lasts for only a few hours.

If there is any considerable difference in the cost figured for the whole time that oiling will prove effective, it is believed that the business men of the City would gladly make up a part of the difference.

This project is well worthy of the serious consideration of the City Council, and the Civic League, and it is suggested that they take it up partly with a view to ascertaining the cost.

Saw His Duty, and Did It.
Inspectors, acting on orders from the fire commissioner's office, are busy these days calling unexpectedly at places where the "no smoking" law is being disregarded, says the New York Tribune. A man in a factory, who was among those present on the list of "Fined $10," said, regarding the activity: "The zeal with which these inspectors are doing their work reminds me of a fireman who put out a blaze all by himself. He was asked what he thought he was, a cop?" He replied: "The fire was smoking under the very nose of a 'No Smoking' sign, so I arrested it."

Saved Northwest to United States.

The death of Francis Xavier Mathieu in Aurora, Ore., at the age of ninety-six years, reveals a maker of history. It is claimed that the vote of this French pioneer preserved a great slice of the northwest to the United States. The old Oregon territory, including Oregon, Washington, Idaho and a part of Wyoming, once trembled in the balance. May 3, 1843, settlers assembled at Champoeg, Ore., to decide whether they should be under British rule or the rule of the United States. Two lines formed, one for the British and one for the United States, and when the count was made there were fifty-one on each side. For many minutes the men of the two lines glared at one another and not a word was spoken. Suddenly, to the surprise of all, Mathieu, a Frenchman, born and reared under the British flag, stepped out of the British line and walked slowly to the American line and Oregon was saved to this country.—Springfield Republican.

Honor to Kitchener.

A statue of Lord Kitchener has just been unveiled in Calcutta. A large gathering of Bengal notables, European and Indian, all the regular troops in the garrison, and a large contingent of boy Scouts witnessed the unveiling of the statue. The governor, Lord Carmichael, made a speech in which he praised Lord Kitchener's ability as a soldier and an administrator.

Newspaper Novelty.

The Germans are a practical people. At the little town of Eberswalde, near Berlin, the local newspaper is printed twice a week on one side of the paper only, so that it can be used for wrapping up provisions without any touch of printer's ink. On these two days the paper is twice its ordinary size, so that the reader loses nothing in the way of reading matter.

Credited to Gratification.

A member of the Pacific Union club, San Francisco, owns a handsome place up in Marion county in which he takes great pride. A few days ago he was boasting that he made $6,000 off it last year. "Did you include the earnings of the farm when you made your income-tax return?" asked an irreverent son of Bonicia. "I did not. Why should I?" "Why you said you made $6,000 from it." "Oh, that wasn't actually cash; $5,000 of it was personal gratification."

Sick Insurance in Prussia.

Prussian sick insurance, which in amended form went into effect January 1, has been found applicable to domestic servants. In Berlin the rate amounts to about ten per cent of the wages paid, which is considered out of all proportion to the risk. The government is considering an amendment to separate the class of domestic servants from other labor.

Mr. Meekton's Mean Idea.

"Why did you insist on having your wife join the Suffragette Club?" "Because," replied Mr. Meekton grimly, "I want to see that Suffragette Club get all the trouble that's coming to it."

House Moved Over Street Car.

A large private house in San Francisco was recently moved along a narrow street to a new site in the adjoining block without blockading street car or vehicle traffic. A single-track cable-car line runs along the center of the street, and the width of the house was too great to permit it to be moved longitudinally along either side of the street at ground level without obstructing the car track. The street railway company objected to any interference with its service, so the contractor resorted to the expedient of jacking the structure to a sufficient height to permit cars to pass beneath it. Crib work was then placed on the skids to support the house and moving operations were performed in the ordinary method.—Engineering Record.

Duse Found a Artist Home.

Eleonora Duse, the greatest actress in Italy, has contributed $2,000 toward the foundation of an artists' home or club in Rome. Signora Duse says that Italian actors and actresses in Italy are relegated to a sort of ghetto, and it is high time that they should have a home or club with a library, a reading room, a lecture hall, and other comforts. Very likely Signora Duse will give her villa in Rome for the artists' home which she hopes to have inaugurated next month.

Teaching Backward Children.

Miss Elizabeth E. Farrell, superintendent of the ungraded schools in New York city, says that the person who is feeble in body may be restored to normal health, and it is the same with a person feeble in mind. The school of the future, she says, will cease talking about the weakness of a child and will emphasize his strength instead. Training will be based on what we know to be good for the individual child and not on what we have always thought to be good for children in general.

Celtic Opera Trilogy.

London is to hear another opera by Lord Howard de Walden and Mr. Joseph Holbrooke this summer. It is entitled "Dylau," and is to be produced on July 4, 9 and 17, at Drury Lane, during the Beecham season. "Dylau" is a sequel to "The Children of Don," which was produced by Mr. Hammerstein in 1912 at the London Opera house, and it forms the second of a trilogy of Celtic operas.

Annoying Either Way.

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, at the recent benefit of the Authors' society in New York, said to a reporter: "I like to see authors work together in harmony. Authors are prone, you know, to be a little bit unfriendly. I said once to a noted playwright: 'How is it that I never see you at any of your confreres' first nights?' 'Well,' he replied, 'I'll tell you. If the play is bad it annoys me, and if it's good it annoys me, too.'"

Anticipation.

Mrs. Justwed—Just think of it, dear, est one! Twenty-five years from day before yesterday will be our silver anniversary!—Judge.

Words of Praise

For Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy

"How thankful we are to you for getting a hold of your wonderful Remedy. My wife could not have had but a short time to live from the closing of the digestive system. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy when she did. One more of those paroxysms of pain she was having would have killed her without a doubt. Now she is free from all pain, free from heart trouble and free from that disturbing Neuralgia—the results of five treatments—and her appetite is good and before taking your medicine she had no appetite and when she ate anything she would suffer death for so doing and could not sleep at night, since taking your treatment she sleeps well all night long. T. A. NEALE, Koonoke, Texas."

The above letter should convince you more than anything we could say in behalf of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. Sufferers should try one dose of this Remedy—one dose should convince them that they can be restored to health. Nearly all Stomach Ailments are caused by the closing of the intestinal tract with mucoid and catarrhal secretions allowing poisonous fluids into the Stomach and otherwise deranging the digestive system. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy painlessly removes these secretions without a surgical operation and puts an end to Colic Attacks, Gases in the Stomach and Intestines and all of the usual symptoms of Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Ailments. Ask your druggist about Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154 Wabash St., Chicago, Ill., for free booklet on Stomach Ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored.

Side Dressing Pays

Every stalk of cotton grown in South Carolina last year could and would have taken on more bolls than it did if it had been properly sidedressed. You will not see the long skips between bolls in side dressed cotton that you see in other cotton, and you will see more bolls to the stalk.

Every stalk of cotton grown in South Carolina last year would have "shed" less if it had been properly side dressed. The reason cotton sheds is that it is deficient in plant food. The only way to supply this plant food is to side dress your cotton. You can't pump it into it. A young, tender, growing child should be fed frequently to make it grow rapidly and develop and come into it's own, and it is the same way with young, tender growing plants. They should be fed (side dressed) frequently. You don't expect to feed your mule enough in April to last until October and the plant food you supply your crop with in April will not last until October either. When the plant exhausts your cotton sheds. Your crop is "cut."

You can only make one cotton crop a year. That is your money up. You want to make all the cotton you can. You want to make all the money you can. For every dollar you pay out for fertilizer for side dressing you get from three to five dollars. This man Rodgers in Florence county who fertilized every time he cultivated his crop, made 880 pounds of lint cotton to the acre, lint cotton—not seed cotton—lint cotton.

By side dressing early your cotton grows off early and gets its maturity early and opens early, for when cotton gets its growth and maturity and ripens it is going to open. Your early cotton weighs better than late cotton. It takes about 120 bolls of cotton picked in September and October to make a pound. It takes from 300 to 400 bolls that are picked in the last half of November and later to make a pound.

When the boll weevil strikes a country the early cotton is all the farmer gets. The boll weevil gets the balance. You don't know when the boll weevil will strike you, or I don't.

Experienced ginners say that 1,300 pounds of side dressed cotton will make as heavy a bale as 1,500 pounds that has not been side dressed. The lint is better developed and there is more of it. Suppose side dressing makes two extra bolls to the stalk. The right kind properly applied will add more than that and make every boll heavier, it will add three and four to the stalk. You will have at least 13,000 stalks to the acre, taking two extra bolls to the stalk and 120 bolls to make a pound you have 200 extra pounds of cotton from the extra bolls to say nothing of all the bolls being larger and heavier.

Side dressed cotton stands drought better than other cotton. It is better fed and in better condition to stand anything better. Side dressing makes more bolls, makes heavier bolls, makes more lint to the boll. makes cotton shed less, makes a better sample, that means a better price, causes your cotton to stand drought better. If side dressing does not pay, it does not pay to farm. The side dressing specially prepared by the Anderson Phosphate and Oil Company boys is the goods you need.
